IMPORTANCE OF COMMUNITY SERVICE

It's never too early to start teaching children the value of community service. Getting involved in volunteering at a young age can set a life-long pattern of advancing the common good. There are many great opportunities for community service for kids that will expand their social circle, teach them empathy and compassion, and increase their chances of success in life.

The grade 4 students of the Al Muntazir Boys Primary visited their neighbouring school Al Madrasatus Saifiyatul Burhaniyya on Thursday 18th May 2017.

The students prepared a Power Point presentation with the assistance of their teachers which they shared with the school. They highlighted on the definition and importance of community service then shared everyday examples which one can perform for the local community.

Our students spoke confidently and were able to answer curious questions from their peers. The students then played a fun filled game where they enacted scenarios for the audience to guess. All winners were awarded with a small token.

As a gift to the students of the Al Madrasa school our boys gave handouts with acts of kindness and a kindness card which will pass on the message of spreading love and giving back to the community.
